VOTE FOR A VETERAN

West Liberty, Ky., Oct. 14, 1941

To the ex-service men:

In 1917 and 1918, we had 667 men called to the different branches of the service; 23 were killed or died in service and many more are if anything worse off, being compelled to hobble on crutches or suffer in hospitals with their lungs eaten up by poison gas, or in mental institutions. This is the price of war.

You have always wanted an ex-service man for County Judge, and on your solicitation and by your votes you have made me the Democratic nominee, and I want you to carry the battle on through November 4, 1941, and show that an organization of ex-service men really are.

We have topped the 300 mark in the present emergency; there are 23 more to go October 20, 1941. We hope that these service men will not have to bear the hardships and privations of the World War veterans, and we hope that not a one will lose his life on foreign soil.

To the mothers, fathers, and friends of these service men, you have my heartfelt sympathy for your soldier boy, and I hope that they will all be able to return to their homes well and happy. I am

Your friend,

(Adv.) LYNN B. WELLS, Atty.

GOODPASTER

Our heavenly father has seen cause to call from this life this dear little one, Jeffery Clayton Goodpaster, son of C. Clayton Goodpaster, deceased about two years ago, and Ora Robbins Goodpaster of Grassy Creek. He was born June 6, 1939, being two years, six months, and five days old when he died. He was stricken with pneumonia and infantile paralysis, living thirteen days unable to speak during his illness. He died at the home of Bio. Leslie Gevedon, where he was given the utmost attention and care by his friends, on Oct. 11, 1941.

This little one was taken from its mother's embrace and from this world of trouble, to enjoy the beauty and splendor of the heavenly country, where it has become an heir of God and a joint heir of Jesus Christ.

Matt. 18:2-5: "And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them, and said, Verily, I say unto you, except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven. Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven. And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name, receiveth me."

Matt. 19:14: But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Besides his mother, Jeffery Clayton leaves two grandmothers, one grandfather, a number of aunts and uncles who adored him very much, and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his loss.

Weep not, mother, but lift up your head.

Jeffery Clayton's gone, but he isn't dead.

He's gone on, on the glorious run. To heaven, and now beckons you to come.

Now's the time to set your goal. To share the happiness of his, untold.

To become a member of the heavenly host.

You must be filled with the Holy Ghost.

THE NEW LIFE

Woodsbend, Ky., Oct. 10, 1941
Editor Courier:
The new life will be far beyond all we can now know or think. We cannot afford to be wandering away from Christ. The things of earth are nothing compared with these wonderful events and the redeemed bodies we shall receive. The unsettled conditions on earth today show that some great event is at hand and we cannot know just how soon Christ may appear for His people.

Have you fully accepted this most wonderful invitation to meet Him in His kingdom, to meet Him when He shall come in glory for His people? Live near Him day by day, learn of this wonderful plan of God for the redemption of His people. It is for all who shall fully accept Him as their Savior and are ready to meet Him.

"WE'RE COUNTING ON YOU"

Hazel Green, Ky., Oct. 11, 1941
Editor Courier:
No matter what others are doing. Or what they are leaving undone. We are counting on you to keep right on the job. Till the very last battle is won. We are counting on you to be faithful. We are counting on you to be true. Yes, others may work, or others may shirk. But remember—we are counting on you.

MRS. GLENN M. TAULBEE

THEN AND NOW

Editor Courier:
There was a time when I lived on a farm, and rode around on a plow; but now I walk from morning till night, for I'm in the army now. I used to cuss the horses and kick the cows, but today I'm as meek as a lamb when cusses and kicks are directed at me—for I'm working for Uncle Sam. A few months ago it was to be bed at twelve, or some time thereafter, but now I have to turn in at nine, when army lights go out. When I used to hunt the rabbit and quail, I usually walked around; but now I hunt for the enemy with my belly on the ground. When I used to eat my meals so nice, it was "pass a salad, please," but now I stab both right and left when the sarge says "At ease."

In those good old days I had a date with a girl most every night; but those are only memories here—for there's not a girl in sight!

I used to cuss and growl at home, and small graps made me sore—but I promise now, when I get back, there'll be none of that no more.

I LOVE THE COURIER

R.R. 1, Mahomet, Ill., Oct. 13, 1941
Editor Courier:
I used to write the news from Twenty-six, Kentucky, as I guess you know; I just couldn't wait till Friday to get the good old Courier, the weeks went by so slow.

But now I live away out here in Illinois, so very far away, but I still get the Courier from my sister every Wednesday.

I read it from bottom to top, when I once got started I just can't stop. I may not be very smart, as some people may say, but I just want them to know how I would love to get the Courier from good old West Liberty every day.

On Wednesday I just can't wait till the postman stops at my gate. Sometimes I'm very busy, as some people are, but I just get the Courier and sit down and read for hours.

I love to read the Courier, it brings me lots of news from back in old Kentucky, and helps to drive away the blues.

I love Morgan county, but the Courier best of all: seems like I just can't let it go at all.

I still want the Courier, no matter where I go, I just love to read it so, nobody knows.

Every word I've written is very, very true, and if all the people of Morgan county loved the Courier as I do, they would subscribe for the Licking Valley Courier too.

Now that's all I have to say; I just hope that you will print this in the Courier.

TOBACCO GRADING

Sam B. Golden, tobacco grader from United States department of agriculture, will be at the following places for the purpose of teaching United States grades of tobacco to farmers of Morgan county.

H. M. Walter, 9:30 Wednesday, October 22.
W. B. Lane, 1:30 Wednesday, Oct. 22.
Kenny Brown, 9:30 Thursday, Oct. 23.

Harmer Lewis, 1:30 Thursday, Oct. 23.
Ben Cox, 9:30 Friday, October 24.
Ollie Sergeant, 1:30 Friday, Oct. 24.

Since government grading of tobacco will be on most markets and also since government loans are now based on United States grades, grading of tobacco is more important this year than usual.

I hope as many farmers will take advantage of these meetings as possible. Bring a few stalks of your tobacco to the meeting with you.

SCHOOL EQUALIZATION AMENDMENT

On November 4 every voter in Kentucky will have an opportunity to vote on a constitutional amendment.

The amendment is the most important one to the Morgan county schools that voters will have ever been permitted to vote on. It is referred to as the school equalization amendment.

As everyone knows, it has become a problem to secure funds to keep the schools running in Morgan county and many other rural poor counties like it. This amendment will provide an educational and legally sound basis for the general assembly to create an equalization fund for the relief of school districts in Kentucky which are in desperate need. If this amendment is passed it will mean more thousands of dollars to the schools of Morgan county. It will mean that the Morgan county schools will be able to secure dollars to each teacher of Morgan county and without any additional tax.

Everyone in this county should be vitally interested when an opportunity is offered, by just voting right, to help bring something like 30 or 35 thousand dollars to Morgan county schools. There is probably no one in this county that is opposed to this amendment if he understands what it is about. But there will be some opposition in wealthier counties and cities where they already have plenty of money for their schools. Now, it is up to counties like Morgan to pass this amendment by such large majorities that we can overcome the opposition of the richer districts, and there are more poor ones than rich ones.

The Kentucky Education Association is supporting this amendment with the definite understanding as proclaimed by Governor Johnson and the state department of education that the present per capita allocated to districts will not be reduced but that the funds for distribution on other than a per capita basis will be an additional amount to the present general school fund. Many civic and other organizations have adopted resolutions endorsing this amendment. You may have already read in the school and agricultural fair bulletin of the Morgan county school board and Morgan County Teachers' association adopting resolutions supporting this amendment.

Every voter, from now until the polls close on election day, should talk and work for this amendment and get others to talk and work for it. Every teacher should canvass his or her district to get people to go to the polls to vote. There have already been committees appointed in each school subdistrict and sample ballots have been sent out showing how to vote for the interest of the schools. Every citizen of Morgan county that is interested in education and in the welfare of the children should spend some time seeing that the voters do not fail to vote for this amendment.

OPTICAL INSTRUMENTS call for skilled repair work. You can train in the Navy for this big-pay field.

Get Set for Life

(Ask about the Naval Reserve)

ARC WELDERS AT WORK. Some of the best electric arc welders in the country are Navy-trained. This is but one of the 45 trades you can learn. When you learn in the Navy, in later life you're always in demand.

EXPERT METALSMITHS teach blue-jackets how to operate beading machine. Soon they'll be experts, too.

EXPERTS IN RADIO do interesting work. In civil life the pay is high. Let the Navy teach you radio work.

DO YOU KNOW that in every trade, profession and business there are successful men—men who earn five, ten and even twenty thousand dollars a year—who will tell you that they owe their success largely to the training they received in the United States Navy?

There are three good reasons for this. First, Navy service develops the essential qualities of leadership, efficiency and accuracy which are the backbone of success in or out of the Navy. Second, you can't beat Navy instruction. The American Navy is the finest in the world, and that means every individual—whether he is radioman, electrician, machinist or cook—must be tops in his line. Third, the Navy makes men. Healthful sports, good food, expert medical and dental care will build you up physically to the rugged health that is typical of Navy men.

EARN NAVY PAY WHILE YOU LEARN

Instruction in many fields today runs into hundreds and sometimes even thousands of dollars. The Navy not only offers you this instruction free, but will give you regular Navy pay while you are learning! And remember this:

When the Navy says you are a Diesel expert, you are a first-class Diesel expert. When you get a

Navy rating as a radioman, you are as good a radioman as they come—and probably a bit better. That's why Navy men are in such big demand by civilian employers. There wouldn't be room in this paper to list the thousands of men that Navy training helped to get set for life. Remember, you have even better opportunities today!
